Helicopter Builds New Line Near Minden

Ontario Hydro's new Sikorsky 58-T hovers a few feet above the ground while workmen attach lifting rope to quick release cargo hook. The helicopter is being used to build miles of rural line at Redstone Lake northeast of Minden.

A pioneer in airborne line construction techniques, Ontario Hydro is using a Sikorsky 58-T helicopter to build four miles of 7200 volt rural line at Redstone Lake, 20 miles northeast of Minden.

One hundred and fifty poles, complete with hardware, which even includes transformers in some cases, will be airlifted from nearby Kennesis Lake. Poles with transformers mounted weigh as much as 700 pounds. The conductors will also be strung from the air. Savings of up to 50 per cent can be realized using helicopters for line construction work in inaccessible areas such as this.

The pilot, who cannot see the ground directly below him, positions the pole guided by an observer in the passenger section of the helicopter. Men on the ground help guide the butt of the pole into the hole. The machine works in alternate directions along the line to give crews time to move from structure to structure.

The helicopter crews are based in Toronto but all other members of the work force are from Hydro's area office at Minden.

Ontario Hydro has used helicopters since 1949 for a variety of operations including line inspection, spraying, aerial surveys, photography, transportation of personnel and many types of construction work. Hydro was the first utility in North America to operate its own fleet, which now number 13 machines. The 12 pilots on the staff flew 6,233 hours last year on these various assignments.

Whitney Trail Open To Snowmobilers

Under existing Provincial Parks Act regulations a Provincial Park is not open to snowmobiling except within an area which may be designated for the purpose.

Recently, all Provincial Parks in the Province were examined as to their individual capacity to provide space for recreation snowmobiling in keeping with the recognized need for accommodation in this rapidly developing sport, and at the same time taking into account the availability of other developed facilities on both private and public lands and weighing in the balance the inescapable demands for protection of specific park values in some instances.

An ensuing announcement listed the majority of Provincial Parks which would be open and those in which snowmobiling would be prohibited. Algonquin Provincial Park was included in the latter group with special reference to Bruton and Clyde Townships in Haliburton County.

The Haliburton area has an extremely active resident snowmobiling interest as well as a commercial one in the corresponding accommodation and supply industry surrounding this sport.

On these terms members of the Haliburton County Snowmobile Association and other representatives from the community have requested the Department of Lands and Forests to review their decision as applied to the Ontario Hydro line right-of-way through Clyde Township.

As a consequence of these presentations pointing out the importance of snowmobiling to the community and in the assurance of the integrity and ability of the Snowmobile Association for confinement of snowmobiling within specified boundaries, the Hon. Rene Brunelle, Minister of Lands & Forests, has declared that effective immediately, prohibition on the use of the Ontario Hydro line right-of-way will be relaxed.

It is underlined that the amendment only affects the hydro line through Clyde Township and the decision will be subject to review again next year on the basis of the current season's activities.

Although full co-operation within the snowmobile fraternity is anticipated, the Department is planning both air and ground patrols to ensure that snowmobilers do not wander off the hydro line right-of-way and intrude into other areas of the park which remain closed.

Christmas Holiday Traffic Accidents

Damage totalled about $850 when two cars collided on Friday afternoon, December 24, on the Pine Lake Road, West Guilford. Drivers of the vehicles were Kathryn Morrison, 31, and Arthur C. Roberts, 49, both of Haliburton. Ontario Provincial Police said the Morrison car was eastbound and skidded into the westbound lane into the path of the Roberts vehicle. Roberts attempted to drive into the ditch to avoid the collision, but the left front corners of the vehicles met. Kathryn Morrison has been charged under The Highway Traffic Act with failing to share the roadway. Ontario Provincial Police Constable F. W. Magee of the Minden Detachment investigated.

Frank Chynoweth, 42, of Norland died on Christmas Eve when his pickup truck hit a tree on Highway 503 just east of Norland.

On Christmas Day, an eastbound car driven by Patricia Gorrie, 19, of Minden slid on the icy surface of Highway 530, crossed into the north ditch and struck a tree. The vehicle sustained damage estimated at $450. The accident occurred at about 9:25 p.m. just west of the junction of Highway 519, and was investigated by Ontario Provincial Police Constable M. J. Maher of the Minden Detachment.

Exhibition Hockey Game This Sunday

Hockey fans of Haliburton County will be in for a real treat when the first Exhibition Hockey Game of the new year will take place at the Haliburton Arena this coming Sunday night, January 9, at 8:30 p.m. The two teams to be featured in this game will be the Haliburton Huskies Old Timers and the Saint Michael's Old Timers Hockey Club from Toronto.

The St. Michael's team is composed of former St. Michael's students dedicated to the promotion of old timer style hockey and will feature Father Rocco Volpe, a defenceman from the "Flying Fathers" and former St. Mike's hockey star, Billy Crawford, Frank Thickett, Jimmy Sonoski, Bob Pallante and Pat Gravelle, all former good St. Mike's players having Junior 'A' and 'B' experience.

This game is to be played at the Haliburton Arena on Sunday night, and it promises to be a good one.

Festlight Contest Winners Chosen

The Rotary Club of Haliburton is pleased to announce the winners in the First Annual Festlight Contest, which are as follows: Private Home - Mr. Bill Gliddon (first prize of $20.00) and Mr. R. J. Curry (consolation prize of $5.00).

In the opinion of the judges there were no outdoor business premises decorated on a par with those of the private homes of the village area and, as a result, no prizes were given in this category this year.

Remember to keep those lights up and on until the Haliburton Winter Carnival weekend.

In conjunction with the Winter Carnival, a Snow and Ice Sculpture Contest is being held with three prizes being awarded of $20.00, $10.00 and $5.00, with the theme being contemporary politicians in Canada. Judging for this event will be done on Saturday morning during the Winter Carnival weekend (January 22).

M.P.P. R. Glen Hodgson Receives Appointment

It was announced by the Honourable William Davis recently that R. Glen Hodgson, M.P.P. for Victoria-Haliburton, would be a member of a special Legislature Committee to undertake consideration of the implications for public policy of the Report of the Interdepartmental Task Force on Foreign Investment in Ontario. The Legislature ordered the special committee to make an interim or final report by March 1, 1972.

Mr. Hodgson, in an interview following the appointment, stated he hoped for a response from business, labour, finance and the general public. Such a response, Mr. Hodgson hopes, will be directed toward promoting the interests of the Canadian people and the residents of this province while still respecting our past commitments. He believes this must be the cornerstone of our policies. Our people, he stated, have a right to expect that government policies will consider their future aspirations as well as their present needs.

Mr. Hodgson said the issue of foreign investment is far too important not to have our people's views before a final determination of national policies; we all have a vital stake in the final outcome.

Mr. Hodgson hopes to have your opinion by January 15th in order for the committee to have them for full consideration.

Monster Parade To Highlight Haliburton Winter Carnival

The Haliburton Winter Carnival is just two weeks away, and plans are now being finalized for this big event. We hope to have a rundown on all events in next week's paper.

The Carnival Committee told the Echo this week that most of the popular events of last year's Carnival will be returning and that they have many surprises in store for the hundreds who will be attending the big annual Carnival. One of the main highlights of this year's Carnival will be the giant parade which will be held on the Saturday of Carnival weekend, starting at 2:00 p.m. — the Bobcaygeon Villagaires Drum and Bugle Corps will be the featured band in this year's parade.

Special emphasis this year is being put on activities for the snowmobilers, and we have also been assured that the fireworks display will be bigger and better than ever. The giant bonfire will be lit on Saturday night, so don't take those Christmas trees to the dump; have them in front of your house for the Christmas Tree Pickup this coming Monday night.

The dates again for the 1972 Haliburton Winter Carnival are Friday, Saturday and Sunday, January 21, 22 and 23.

Watch for next week's Echo with more details.

Snowmobile Accidents Injure Two Persons On Weekend

Weekend snowmobile crashes sent two persons to hospitals in this area.

At 12:15 a.m. on New Year's Day, James Borland, 42, of Penetang Street, Barrie, was riding his snowmobile along the Barry Line, a road about 10 miles north of the Village of Haliburton, when he lost control of his machine and decided to jump off. After landing in the snow, he slid into a wire fence. He was taken to the Red Cross Hospital at Haliburton for treatment for a fractured right arm, a broken jaw and lacerations to the chin. Later he was removed to the Barrie Hospital where he is continuing treatment.

The Minden Detachment of the Ontario Provincial Police report a snowmobile accident on the Salmon Lake Road at 12:25 a.m. on January 1 in which the driver of the snowmobile, Joan McCausland of Gooderham, lost control of her machine and left the road. She was taken to the Red Cross Hospital in Minden suffering a broken leg. The investigating officer was Constable William Clendenning.

HALIBURTON NEWS LETTER

Mr. Karl Hadley, a former resident of Haliburton, dropped us a note during the Christmas holidays and told us that he is going in on a construction job for Dow Chemical of Canada and it is a multi-million dollar job which is expected to last at least 18 months. It is a huge chlorine plant that uses no mercury and when put on a stream it will phase out the three existing plants that are now in operation.

Quite a bit of snow fell during the holiday season and the snowmobilers took good advantage of it as the snowmobiles were seen scooting up and down Head Lake.

We urge all citizens of Haliburton and surrounding area to keep their Christmas lights up for the Haliburton Winter Carnival which is scheduled for January 21, 22 and 23, 1972.

Mr. Jim Roberts of Haliburton, who has a dwarf orange tree in his home, was in the Echo office the other day showing us a home grown orange which came off the tree.

We are receiving several complaints from ministers in Haliburton regarding snowmobilers on their noisy machines disrupting church services on Sunday morning. If you are snowmobiling on Sunday mornings please use a different route — a word to the wise should be sufficient.

This coming Monday night, January 10, the members of the Haliburton Fire Department will be out in full force for the annual Christmas Tree Pickup. Please leave your Christmas tree in front of your house so the firemen can pick them up. They will be taken to the Community Ball Park in Haliburton and piled in a heap in preparation for the giant bonfire which will be held in connection with this year's Haliburton Winter Carnival. If the firemen happen to miss you, please take your tree to the Community Park — don't take them to the dump.

Must Game For Haliburton Huskies This Saturday Against Lakefield

The Haliburton Huskies return to the ice again in the O.H.A. Central Ontario Junior 'D' Hockey League this Thursday night in Fenelon Falls and then will return home to the Haliburton Arena and face the first place Lakefield club this Saturday night. The Huskies have hit a mid-season slump and are now battling with Bancroft for second place. Although the Huskies have lost to the Lakefield club three times this season, it has been by only two goals in each contest. The Huskies themselves have been working hard during the past week to get back on the beam, as they had lost three out of four games over the holiday season.

The game against Lakefield on Saturday night should be a good match, and the players have vowed that they will certainly be up for this one as first place is still in sight. The schedule is now half over and shows Lakefield in first place, the Huskies in second, Bancroft in third and Cannington in fourth. If the Haliburton club can win both their matches this week they can still overtake the Lakefield entry and retain the league trophy that is presented to the first place club.

Don Nicholson is the leading scorer as he added nine points in Haliburton on Sunday night as the Cannington club beat the Huskies 11-7. Gerry McElwain is the Haliburton Huskies' leading scorer and he hopes to give Nicholson a good run during the second half of the schedule. The Lakefield goaltender, Ralph Beavis, is the leading goalie to date but Dennis Good, who has been exceptional in net for the Huskies during the past several games, is still within striking distance.

The crowds dropped substantial-ally over the holidays as only 200 were on hand for the last two games. Although the hometown Huskies do not have the power that they had during the past two seasons, they can entertain with some hard checking. To have a successful club in our community it is necessary to have a good fan following. Don't let the players down, as it is encouraging to them to have good solid support. Remember, many of these players brought an Ontario Championship to this town last year. Support the Huskies!

Gail Sawyer Is "Name The Husky" Contest Winner

Gail Sawyer was announced as the winner of the "Name the Husky" Contest at the regular home game of the Haliburton Huskies on Christmas night. Gail, who attends the West Guilford Public School, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Sawyer. Gail has always been an avid hockey fan as her two oldest brothers played for the local Huskies for several years who were members of the Huskies during the club's first few years in the Junior 'D' Hockey League.

The name that Gail chose was "Go Go", and this was picked because of its appeal in relation to the ever frequent chant heard in the arena, "Go Huskies Go". She will receive a cheque for $10.00 and an autographed stick signed by all the players of this year's team.

The management of the Haliburton Huskies would like to thank all the young people that participated in the contest, and it is hoped that they will support the Huskies in years to come.

Christmas At Hyland Crest Home In Minden

Christmas at the Hyland Crest Senior Citizens' Home in Minden has been a time to remember for everyone who lives and works there. The Home had been beautifully decorated with lights, trees and colourful window artistry, as well as with a 25-foot tree on the lawn, the lights of which are to be seen across the village. The large tree and many of the decorations had been donated by local businessmen. These contributions to the Christmas atmosphere of the Home is most valuable and appreciated in many ways.

Christmas was introduced to the Home when the C.G.I.T. from Haliburton presented their annual Carol Service on December 1st, to the enjoyment of all.

The residents were entertained on December 16th by the Hyland Crest Auxiliary, when each one received a gift from Santa Claus. From then on the Christmas spirit was continually in evidence as several groups of carollers sang. The Kindergarten classes from the Minden School presented their Nativity Pageant as well as singing carols as only these little ones can do.

Christmas Day was the crowning occasion when Santa made his second appearance and again unloaded the tree while greeting everyone with his jolly good wishes. The gaily decorated dining room was the setting for the family Christmas dinner when a number of families were able to join their relatives at the festive board. Another greatly appreciated event was the Holy Eucharist service conducted by Reverend A. Hutchison in the Chapel on Christmas night.

There has been much activity during the holiday season which has culminated a year of co-operation by many volunteers who regularly entertain and work along with the residents — to all these volunteers a most hearty vote of thanks. Along with expressions of appreciation there goes a reminder that the residents at Hyland Crest, who are the pioneers of the community, are worthy of thoughtfulness all year round and they look forward to seeing and talking to friends, both old and new, at every season of the year. Don't let the "after the holiday doldrums" happen at Hyland Crest for want of community interest and participation.

From the residents and staff at Hyland Crest, A Happy New Year To All.

Christmas Play With Music A Poignant Experience

St. George's, Haliburton, presents
"The Birth of Jesus" December 19 & 20

By GAY FISHER

Special to Haliburton County Echo

One could not have been attending the services of St. George's Anglican Church for the past month without realizing that something unusual was in preparation. Strange additions to the furnishings continued to appear which had a very dramatic overtone. In fact, by the morning of December 19, the priest had actually been crowded out of the sanctuary, and had had to celebrate the early morning Eucharist at a small table set up in the aisle of the nave. And yet this did not seem irreverent, but brought to mind the first Nativity Scene, where the Christ-child Himself was crowded out of the inn and into the stable.

The use of drama, music, and the dance is nothing new to religion. Primitive cultures, the Egyptians, the Greeks and Romans, all used them. In the Bible we have continual reference to the use of music and dancing by the Hebrew people. Christians have borrowed from every culture they have evangelized, and adapted to indigenous forms of worship. They learned early to use the drama as an instrument of instruction. In mediaeval times, Bible stories were taught to the illiterate masses by means of mystery and/or miracle plays. The efficacy of their use was well recognized and exploited in England as well as in Europe during the 12th to 16th centuries. However, during the Reformation under the harsh influence of Calvin and other reformers, the so-called "trappings of the papists" were ruthlessly and indiscriminately abolished. The plays apparently were among the casualties. Puritan, and later Victorian, strictness in worship continued this bleakness in the Anglican churches. But in the 19th century, a spark was kindled which in spite of almost insane opposition, continued to spread; colour and beauty and life were slowly brought back into church worship. Gradually, in the 20th century, the clergy and laity became accustomed to a liberalism in the church services and use of church property which would have probably sent a Victorian churchman into a state of irreversible shock! One of the happy results of this revival was that the old mystery plays and other forms of the drama were brought back into use as an expression of worship. Under the inspiration and talented direction of organist and choirmaster, Mr. Bill Gliddon (Mus.Bac., University of Toronto), Haliburton was receiving a direct benefit of the changing times.

At 7.30 p.m. on Sunday evening, December 19, a hushed, expectant congregation waited in the pews of the delightful little Village church. A spot-light system had been set up and manned. The sanctuary had been changed into a surprisingly large stage, and sets had been artistically designed and put in place. Candles glowed in red glass at the rear of the church, lighting a vase of red and white carnations on either side of a little manger scene on a small table which had been built into the base of the staging for lights; and a silver plate gleamed as the flames flickered. A couple of tiny tots in first-century costumes appeared, tiptoed up to the plate, and carefully placed their offerings on it. Several loud thumps and muffled children's voices could be heard wafting up from the basement which had been changed into a bustling "backstage." At last the rector of the parish, The Reverend Frank A. Ford, warmly welcomed those who were present and explained that the drama which was about to be presented was a tribute to worship, and therefore all those taking part and those who had worked so hard behind the scenes to make the production possible, had chosen to remain anonymous.

The script for the play was written by Bill Gliddon, and he borrowed freely from numerous sources. The epilogue is a direct quote from a 12th-century miracle play, "Daniel," written by university students at Beauvais, France. Carols from various countries, Scripture, original dialogue, solo and choral singing, plainchant and even a Willan number, were very skillfully assembled into a two-act drama. The beautiful costumes were carefully researched to make them as authentic as possible. They were cleverly designed, and painstakingly sewn by the mothers and friends of the parish; many of very costly material. After months of assiduous rehearsal, it is now to be enacted by the children and young folk of the parish with heart-warming sincerity.

PART I - THE STORY OF THE NATIVITY AND THE REVELATION OF THE SHEPHERDS. The congregation stands and joins heartily in the ancient French processional carol, "O come, all ye faithful." Next, Christ's birth is foretold in an old French noel, sung in the high, sweet voices of an unseen choir, "Little children, wake and listen." The church is darkened, and as the organ gently accompanies him, a pleasing, mature male voice at the entrance sings in plainchant, arranged by Gliddon, "Of the Father's love begotten . . . Evermore and evermore." A golden light plays upon a crucifer (a boy carrying a cross) who slowly proceeds up the aisle towards the sanctuary, which has become the stage. The light is turned onto a blond youth in a brown monk's habit who stands in the pulpit and speaks facing the altar: "In Your honour, Christ, we perform this drama of the Holy Nativity." Then he turns toward the people and reads the Christmas Gospel from the New English Bible in a loud, clear voice: "When all things began, the Word already was. The Word dwelt with God, and what God was, the Word was . . . So the Word became flesh; He came to dwell among us . . ." A spot-light reveals a village maiden with long dark tresses - Mary - standing quietly. As she stands there, in off-stage voice proclaims the prophecy of Isaiah 7:14, "Behold, a young woman shall conceive and bear a son, and shall call his name Emmanuel."

The choir, representing the people of Israel praying for their Messiah, sing, "O come, O come Emmanuel," while Mary sits in deep thought, and then kneels in prayer. When the music ends, a brilliant light shines suddenly and Mary is startled to her feet. The Angel Gabriel, gowned in shimmering opalescent white, with magnificent feathery wings, dramatically appears to be hovering high in the air over her; she is frightened, and sinks down to her knees again. He then greets her, "Hail . . . Mary;" and announces to her, "Thou shalt bring forth a son . . . the world he shall redeem and save . . . and he shall be called the Prince of Peace." He tells her that her son is to be the Son of God. Mary finally replies, "As God hath said, so may it be," and Gabriel blesses her and leaves. Mary then recites the beginning of the Magnificat, "My soul doth magnify the Lord; and my spirit hath rejoiced in God my Saviour . . ." The choir takes up "The Song of Mary," . . . For behold from henceforth all generations shall call me blessed; for He that is mighty hath magnified me, and joy in His Name . . . Mary the leaves, and the choir of cherubim (four pretty little girls in long filmy white dresses and white frilly wings), who accompany Gabriel, sing a joyous French carol, "Ding dong, merrily on high."

The subsequent scene is the Journey to Bethlehem. The narrator-monk reads the Scripture telling of the decree of Emperor Augustus of Rome that a census was to be taken; that Joseph must take his pregnant wife, Mary, to Bethlehem to register because he was of the house of David; and while they were there the time came for her Child to be born. The stage setting is night-time in the small Eastern town of Bethlehem, with one very large star standing out in contrast to the other smaller stars in the sky. As Joseph, a poor carpenter, walks slowly with Mary toward the town, the choir sings the Scottish carol, "What strangers are these? . . . and who is this King of whom we sing, Jesus the Saviour?" They arrive at the inn, and Joseph begs for a place to stay because Mary's Baby is about to be born. The innkeeper informs Joseph that "all Bethlehem is full," and then out of compassion for Mary, tells them that the stable is not being used. Joseph is shocked, but Mary accepts it, and says, "It will be warm and comfortable." She chinks him sweetly as he kindly helps her to her feet, and they go off to the stable. A clear, unspoiled soprano, off stage, sings the Aklavik carol, "Twas in the silent night He came," and the narrator relates that the Baby was born in the stable. The choir carols, "Away in a manger, no crib for His bed," and again the prophecy of Isaiah is read, " . . . For to us a child is born, to us a son is given; and the government will be upon his shoulder, and his name will be called, Wonderful Counsellor, Mighty God, Everlasting Father, Prince of Peace." The choir continues singing, "The Holy Child" (by E. Martin); and then, "Jesus, softly sleeping," a Russian carol.

The church is again in darkness except for the lighting of the stained glass window over the altar, appropriately depicting Jesus the Good Shepherd.

The lights now reveal a set of the shepherd's field in Bethlehem, with sheep grazing, and a family of shepherds sitting on the grass. One is playing the flute. The voices in the choir, with a light touch, sing, "Out on the hills the Bethlehem shepherds, minded their silly sheep all the night long." The shepherds, carrying crooks, look very realistic each in his individually designed bournous (cloak), galabia (robe), and immah (head-dress); they lie down to sleep. "These are Arabic words; when the author was in Bethlehem it was under Jordanian rule, so of course the shepherds were Arabs and not Jews as they were when Jesus was born; but they still wore the same type of clothing. Suddenly there is a brilliant light, and the shepherds are frightened by the appearance of the Angel Gabriel, and a throng of cherubim. Gabriel is obviously amused at the terror he has caused, and smilingly tells the shepherds to " . . . be of quiet mind . . . joyful news I bring;" and he sends them to Bethlehem to find the Christ-child and to worship Him. The angels jubilantly chorus, "Alleluia, Alleluia, Glory be to God in Highest Heaven, and peace on earth to men of holy will . . ." As the shepherds leave to seek the Christ-child, the Swedish carol, "Up good Christen folk, and listen" is sung by the choir who remain unseen throughout the whole play.

The scenery is changed again, and the lights come on revealing the inside of the stable, very cleverly constructed, with a large manger filled with straw. Joseph is standing beside Mary, who is holding the Baby Jesus in her arms and singing in a clear, promising voice, "Lullaby" ("Swagan" - a Welsh carol). As the choir sets the mood with "What Child is this?" (to the tune of "Greensleeves"), the group awed, but curious, shepherds appears at the back of the church, and approaches the manger. Mary tenderly displays her Baby to them, and Joseph bids the shepherds to worship Him. They offer Him the gift of love, as they are but poor folk, and have no presents for Him. (This is a very picturesque and homiletic scene, with the holy angels in sparkling white above the manger, and the lowly, worshipping shepherds to one side, all focusing their attention on the Holy Family - the Baby in the centre - in front of the stable.) The shepherds leave in excitement - a little boy-shepherd on a big shepherd's shoulders, and another joyfully playing his flute and dancing his way down the aisle; while the others are shouting, "Christ is born! Christ is born!" The angel choir (joined by the unseen singers) offer their praise with a full-voiced "Glory to God in the Highest." The lights fade as the first part ends.

PART II - THE JOURNEY OF THE WISE MEN. While the standing congregation participates, the choir sings in descant the old English carol, "God rest ye merry, gentlemen." The stage setting is changed to the Roman palace in Jerusalem and Herod's throne is set in place. The narrator tells about Herod hearing of three wise men from his spies. Accompanied by an organ fanfare, King Herod enters with a court advisor. He is royally attired in a midnight-blue velvet floor-length robe, richly embroidered, with a very wide bejewelled red collar, and a glittering red crown. He carries a sceptre in his right hand, and wears a huge jewel in a ring on his left hand. He takes his place superciliously on his throne. His advisor stands humbly beside him in a handsome costume of purple taffeta with a front panel of silver cloth decorated with symbols of astrology; and a matching headpiece. He tells Herod of the Magi coming to Jerusalem. Herod's manner is condescending and demanding; his voice, contemptuous. When he is told that they are searching for a child who is to take the throne of Israel, he orders Annas, the High Priest, to be brought before him. (Historically, Herod chose his own high priests, often lax Jews of Alexandria, thus degrading the office.) Annas, in white robes, turban, and prayer shawl worked with gold, tells Herod that the prophecy of a Messiah is hundreds of years old, and no one believes in the wonderful stories of the old Scriptures except the ignorant. He cannot even remember where the event is supposed to take place; and is dismissed, subserviently, to find out.

As the organ quietly plays, the three Wise Men slowly proceed with their pages, down the aisle toward Herod's throne. Their costumes are colourful and rich-looking: the first king wears a golden velvet cape to the floor with a matching turban; under the cape can be seen a green robe with glittering gold trim. His three tiny pages wear matching gold velvet short tunics with the same gold trim and belts, over gold-coloured tights. The second king is indeed regal; his dark-kinned bearded chin is held high; he wears a heavy green cloak edged with gold cloth over a purple robe with front panel of sparkling gold material. His crown is of gold. His three little pages are in court costumes of green and purple, with green or purple tights. The third king has a long red velvet cloak trimmed with marabou (stork) feathers, over a black robe with silver lame front panel. He wears a silver-and-red crown. His three small pages have on red and silver tunics, and black tights. All the little pages wear ankle-high tan felt boots with turned-up toes; and little caps to match their tunics, with a long feather in each. Their serious little faces, and dignified bearing are very touching.

After the Magi have removed their crowns and bowed low to Herod, he says he is curious to know why they are honoured with such a visit. His tone is sarcastic when they tell him they are following a star, but he wants to know what they expect to find under it. He is told a child; and snaps back contemptuously, "What about this child?" They defer, and he glares at them menacingly, and then decides to try to find out where they expect to find him. When told, he is astonished. "Bethlehem! Such a place!!" He loses his temper when they declare their intentions of continuing their search, and orders them to go and find Him, and then come back to report. Then laughing harshly at the wicked thought that has suddenly entered his mind, he shouts, "Perhaps I will go and worship him too." The Wise Men bow again, and leave quietly; and Herod eyes them with suspicion and hatred. As soon as they are gone, he turns to his advisor and orders, "Follow them and search everywhere else besides. Find this child that has been born under a magical star!"

The church is darkened again while the palace scene is changed back to the Nativity Scene. The three Wise Men and their respective pages proceed slowly down the aisle with great splendour, bearing gifts, towards the Manger of Bethlehem, as the organ softly plays the "Coventry Carol" and Willan's "Entrance of the Kings." The narrator continues, "Lo, the star, which they saw in the East, went before them till it came and stood over where the young Child was. When they saw the star, they rejoiced with exceeding great joy. And when they were come into the house, they saw the young Child, with Mary His mother, and fell down and worshipped Him." (This represents the first time that Christ was worshipped by Gentiles - the first Epiphany.) The kings, removing their crowns, bow low and present their gifts of gold, symbolic of kingship; frankincense, symbolic of deity - this Baby is God Incarnate, God taking on human form; and myrrh, used to anoint the dead, foreshadowing His death on the Cross. The narrator reads on, " . . . and being warned by God in a dream that they should not return to Herod, they departed into their own country by another way." The Wise Men leave with great dignity as the choir sings, "The First Nowell."

Mary now sings a haunting lullaby to her Baby, "O Lord, my Babe foretold," and has a premonition of the Crucifixion. She kneels and prays for Him.

Mary and Joseph prepare to leave for Egypt, and Joseph nuzzles, "What can I give Him, poor as I am? If I were a shepherd, I would bring a lamb; if I were a Wise Man, I would do my part; Yet, what I can, I give Him; - All my heart."

For the recessional the choir sings, "In the bleak midwinter" (by Holst). Mary and Joseph and the Baby Jesus, followed by the cherubim and the narrator, leave slowly along the aisle. The Angel Gabriel comes forward and gives the Epilogue:

"And now, good people, our play is done. But to grace our going, let God's angel tell you tidings of eternal joy. To the maiden, Mary, the Immaculate Virgin, A Baby has just been born in Bethlehem Town; May He dwell in the manger of your heart forever. Sing Glory to God in the highest. 'He peace of God be with you.'"

"Of the Father's love begotten" is again sung. The crucifer in his black robe solemnly leaves the church, exiting very slowly down the aisle. The play has ended just as it began, except that one feels strangely moved. The sincerity and reverence, and ability, with which the young singers and players (some of them not much more than babies), presented their Christmas Story, each exerting himself to do his very best after long preparation, made one think: Christmas IS for children - and for all mankind! It was clear that the beauty and meaning of God's Incarnation are still treasured by many Christians, not only in Haliburton, but throughout the world. How wonderful that this should be so, in spite of all the commercialism and the encroachment, particularly in North America, of that jolly old fat man in the red suit who sometimes seems to be stealing the limelight on Jesus' Birthday. All those young players and singers, and those who have worked so hard to bring this production into being, must certainly be entitled to a "Merry Christmas," because they have made it first a Holy Christmas - for themselves, and all who witnessed "The Birth of Jesus."

BETWEEN BITES, THE APPLE WAS SWEET

Looking back on 1971, I find it contains the year's usual melange of the good and evil, the sweet and bitter, the daily worm within the luscious apple.

An old friend, Don McCuaig of Renfrew, won the Best Newspaper award among Canada's weeklies. I've thought for several years that he had the best weekly in the country (sorry about that, all you other chaps who turn out first-class weeklies), but never got around to telling him.

On the other side of the fence, I read an editorial in the Bowmanville Statesman, an old, established, many times winner of prizes, written from his hospital bed by another old friend, John James. This shook me a bit.

Haven't seen Don McCuaig for some years, but we have an old pact. He was in the army and one day was being slightly harassed by Hun '88's, a fearsome gun, if ever there was. A flight of Typhoons came over and silenced the Jerry guns. We met at a newspaper convention and he promised me he'd buy me the biggest and best dinner I could eat every time we got together, because I'd been a Typhoon pilot. And he still sends an annual invitation to come trout fishing in the Ottawa Valley, the natal place of many great men, like us.

Last time I saw John James, he and two gigantic sons were whaling golf balls at a weeklies' tournament, while I puddled along with my usual slices, hooks and various blunders of the links. Get well, John, and hit them a mile.

Here's a clipping and note from Tommy Lee, former weekly editor and now PR man with Royal Trust. He, too, was a pilot. The clipping is about the big air-crew reunion in Winnipeg and the note chides me for not hobnobbing with the mob. I wanted to go, Tommy, but my wife wouldn't let me. She didn't want me shipped home in a casket.

And here's a note from Walter Koyanagi of the Taber, Alta., Times, giving me hell for using the term "Japs" in a column. He claims that the word "Jap" is derogatory and objectionable. To me, it's just an abbreviation. He also doubts if I would call a German or Italian other than such in public print. See above, Walter. I wouldn't give a diddle if somebody called Canadians "Cans". In fact, it might be suitable. Many of us have the figure and the mental resilience of a can.

Here's a huge newspaper from Oromocto, N.B., in which I learn that a dear old friend, George Cadogan, who actually got this column going, can't resist the smell of printers' ink and has got back into the scramble of running a weekly, after a letter swearing that he was going to take it easy and spend the winter in Spain. Take it easy, George. Oromocto is a long way from Majorca. But good luck, Lord Thomson of the Maritimes.

And the bitter. News that a close friend of my wife's, a dedicated Catholic nun, and one of the most vibrant, cheery personalities one could meet, is seriously ill. Young in age and spirit, she resists my firm conviction that God does not "see the little sparrow fall". Bless her.

Here's a buoyant letter from my Uncle Ivan, who has suffered the tragic loss of a brilliant son, and the death of his wife in a stupid car accident, is 79, and is off to Florida, and thinks he'll drive this time.

And just before Christmas, friends of ours lost a little six-year-old angel of a girl, who was pitilessly smashed to rags in a stupid, unnecessary car accident, on her way home from school.

And so it goes: the bitter and the sweet, the good and bad, the joyous and the tragic. Life; and it's the only one we have.

I don't want to spoil a mood, or appear frivolous, but we had the whole thing distilled in our Christmas vacation with two cats.

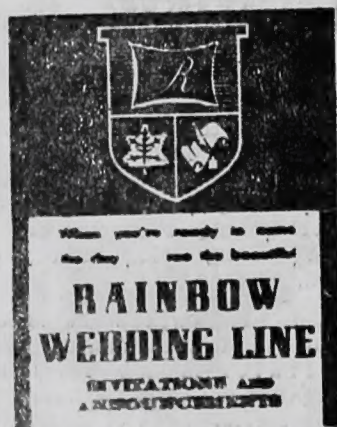

We have a fat, neutered lady called Pip, bequeathed to us by Kim when she left home.

Well, Pip has established the fact that she is queen of her own domain. She chases everything from squirrels to butterflies to spiders out of her backyard in summer, and deigns to spend the winter eating and sleeping.

Home from college comes Kim, sneaking, in a box with air-holes, the rauchiest, randiest young tomcat you've ever laid eyes on. For the first few days, Pip tried to lay down the law as to whom the house belonged to. The pre-Christmas air was rent with howls and screams as they clashed. I'd put one in the cellar, the other in the back johnnie.

Finally, fat old Pip got too pooped to participate. After a few days, they decided to co-exist, and now spend their time chasing each other up the drapes and over the upholstery.

Maybe there's a message here, somewhere. The good and the bad, the bitter and the sweet, are part of life, and we can either accept it or run away from it.

Things you should know about...

YOUR NEW COMBINED GOVERNMENT PLAN

The new "Ontario Health Insurance Plan" will provide all the coverage now available to you under both OHSIP and Ontario Hospital Insurance. And it will do so at a lower combined premium than you now pay for the two separate plans.

The new premiums will be payable in January, 1972, and thereafter, to cover benefit periods beginning on or after April 1, 1972. These new premiums will be:

- $11.00 a month for a single person, and
- $22.00 a month for a family (2 or more eligible persons)

REPLACES "OHSIP" AND "ONTARIO HOSPITAL INSURANCE"

The Ontario Health Insurance Plan will replace the OHSIP (medical) and Ontario Hospital Insurance plans as of next April 1, and you will then have only:

- one plan to deal with;
- one health insurance identification card;
- one health insurance number (your former Ontario Hospital Insurance number);
- one combined premium to pay.

If you now have Ontario Hospital Insurance, your changeover to the new combined plan will be automatic. No action on your part is required as the new plan will be based on the existing hospital insurance billing system.

FREE FOR SENIOR CITIZENS

(After 1-year Residence in Ontario)

As of January 1, 1972 residents aged 65 and over are exempt from paying Ontario Health Insurance premiums to cover themselves and their eligible dependents. To benefit from this exemption, insurance may be transferred to the name of the older spouse if it is presently in the name of a spouse under age 65.

Most residents aged 65 years and over have already applied for premium-free coverage, but if you have not done so, please write to the Plan giving your Ontario Hospital Insurance number, your OHSIP number, and month and year of birth.

Persons who turn 65 after January 31, 1972, should apply at the time for free coverage. If you pay your premium on a direct basis, write to the Plan for an application. If you pay through a group, advise your group. Premium-free coverage will take effect on the first day of the month in which your 65th birthday occurs. Any premiums paid to cover benefit periods beyond that date will be refunded.

PREMIUM ASSISTANCE

(After 1-year Residence in Ontario)

Effective with the benefit month of April, 1972, individuals and families with no taxable income for the year 1972 are eligible, on application, for 100% Ontario Government premium assistance.

Individuals with less than $1,000 taxable income in 1972, and families with total taxable income of under $2,000 are eligible for 50% premium assistance. This will reduce the monthly premiums to $5.50 for such individuals (instead of $11.00) and to $11.00 for an eligible family (instead of $22.00).

Taxable income is the amount on which a person pays income taxes, after subtracting from his total income all exemptions and other deductions to which he is entitled.

Note: If you remit your premiums on a direct basis, details on Premium Assistance will be mailed with your next Premium Notice. Residents enrolled in groups will be informed through their groups.

NEW IDENTIFICATION CARDS

The Plan will provide each insured single person and each insured head of a family with a new Ontario Health Insurance Identification Card to use for insured services received on or after April 1. Anyone who has not received his or her card by that date should use the current Hospital Insurance Certificate, after April 1, 1972, for medical and hospital services until the new card is received.

Your present OHSIP card should be used when claiming for medical and practitioner services received up to March 31, 1972.

IMPORTANT

As the present Ontario Hospital Insurance numbers and billing system will form the basis of the new plan, anyone who does not now have hospital insurance coverage should register without delay.

Applications are available in banks and hospitals and from offices of the Ontario Health Insurance Plan.

BE SURE YOU ARE COVERED NEXT APRIL 1st!

JEHOVAH'S WITNESSES SPIRITUALLY UPLIFTED FOLLOWING CONVENTION

Following a successful three-day convention just completed at Sutton West, local delegates returned home spiritually uplifted and encouraged to accelerate their ministry in all phases of life.

The key address of the assembly delivered by District Supervisor W. Veenstra covered the authorized Biblical proof of the fact that many will live forever here on earth. Life hinges on man's obedience to God and his primarily learning to live a true Christian life, practising such daily in harmony with God's Guide Book.

The encouraging theme pointed further to the convincing and time-proven evidence that Christian people have always reflected the high standard of Christ's life. We live in a world where many nations and people profess to be Christian, yet in reality 'say one thing and do another'. Stress was made how the Witnesses do not follow this trend.

A total of 1,161 were in attendance for the public discourse. Local presiding minister, Mr.

Raymond Zwidayk, was enthused over the practicalness of the program.

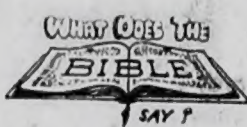

ARE THERE WICKED SPIRITS?

Jesus Christ, who came to earth from the spirit realm, acknowledged the existence of wicked spirits. You may recall that he often spoke of the Devil, and that he called him "the father of the lie" and a "manslayer" (John 8:44). For our own protection in this time when lying and murder are on the increase, we do well to examine this subject.

Many persons, of course, do not believe that there are wicked spirit creatures. Even some who claim to use the Bible say that Satan the Devil is only a quality of evil, not an invisible spirit person. But do the facts agree with their belief? What about Jesus Christ's own experience when the Devil tempted him? The Bible tells us that the Devil showed Jesus all the kingdoms of the world and said to him: "All these things I will give you if you fall down and do an act of worship to me." Jesus answered the Devil: "Go away, Satan! For it is written, 'It is Jehovah your God you must worship.'" Then the Devil left Jesus. — Matthew 4:1-11.

During that experience, by whom was Jesus Christ tempted? By a real person? Or by a mere quality of evil? If he was tempted by a mere quality of evil, in whom did this quality dwell? Was this evil in Jesus Christ? If so, then it could not be true that in him there is no sin. Yet the Bible, God's Word of truth, makes it very clear that Jesus was "guileless, undefiled, separated from the sinners" (Hebrews 7:26). The Bible also says: "He committed no sin, nor was deception found in his mouth." (1 Peter 2:22). So Jesus could not have been carrying on a conversation with "evil" in his own self. He was talking to a living spirit creature. Thus the scriptures and sound reasoning make clear that Satan is a real, live person in the invisible spirit realm. As 1 Peter 5:8 warns us, "Keep your senses, be watchful. Your adversary, the Devil, walks about like a roaring lion, seeking to devour someone."

Ray Zwidayk,
Haliburton.

OUR BIBLE

The Bible, the word of God, as recorded and preserved by the power and providence of almighty God, constitutes the greatest book in all the world. Indeed it is such a wonderful book in its influence upon the world of men, that the greatest souls and the most feeling minds that ever lived, have exhausted themselves completely in their efforts to adequately express their evaluation of the book. The Bible cannot be compared to any other book, not even to those of a religious character; because only the things of the same class and the same kind can be compared. There is no other book that ever has or ever can lay rational claim to competition with the Bible in any way.

It is my firm conviction that the Bible has nothing to fear from any honest and rational investigation of its factional contents and claims. But as well, I am moved to say that the higher critics of the Bible in their investigation into the authorship, dates, credibility and literary characteristics of the books of the Bible and the sacred volume as a whole, have dealt neither honestly or rationally. Indeed their fabulous and nebulous theories concerning writers and documents of the existence of which there is absolutely no historic evidence at all upon which the believer in the Bible can find any justification. In fact, he finds the objections of the critics so fantastic and absurd as to be actually revolting to any knowledgeable person in possession of the real facts in the case.

Naturally an enemy of the Bible is more than anxious to make as strong a case as possible against it. The judgment of an avowed enemy of any person or thing cannot be relied upon. An enemy may think he is fair in his judgment, but in the very nature of the case he cannot be fair. The supposed contradictions, about which the enemy makes so much noise, are imaginary. Fairly considered, they are not contradictions. But his objections prove one thing — they prove that a man like him did not write the matter to which he objects. If he thinks the Bible is not worthy of belief, why does he think it is so necessary to be constantly fighting it? The fact is that he cannot let it alone, because it will not let him alone. He can be indifferent to any other book that he does not like, but not the Bible. He cannot ignore the Bible. That shows that it has within it a force that no other book has. The infidel thinks he is sitting in judgment on the Bible; but, as a matter of fact, he is on the defensive and is acting as his own attorney. He is trying to get out from under the judgment resting upon him by finding fault with both the law and the sentence. But he cannot succeed, as he will one day find out. And the noise he makes about it shows that he is not able to justify himself even before the bar of his own conscience.

UNCLE DUDLEY'S COLUMNNEW YEAR'S EVE

I have just put away the 1971 desk calendar — a lovely one depicting some beautiful scenery of South Africa — and installed the new 1972 version. I am all set for the new year, and believe it or not my desk is fairly clear.

The year just closed has been an interesting and eventful year. We people, as Canadians, have a great deal to be thankful for, and I daily thank my God for life afforded me and many blessings I enjoy in this friendly community.

I am unhappy about many things, and chief among them is the weak leadership we have both at Ottawa and Toronto. Now to make it plain just what I mean. I am not speaking of a matter of exchange or barter, but those deeper matters growing out of the first laws set down on tablets of stone and brought to the disgruntled Jews by their leader Moses.

We can all look back with a good amount of pride to our former leaders: John Diefenbaker, Lester B. Pearson, uncle Louis St. Laurent, and on the provincial level, our own Leslie J. Frost.

The lowering of the legal right of our young people to frequent the beverage rooms is very distasteful to me. All who know me well know I am one of those strange individuals known as abstainers. From a recent survey by our church paper, I am among the 36 per cent clergy and 27 per cent laymen in this category — I am quite content. The Book has some harsh things to say to those individuals who entice the younger folk in the ways of error.

WHAT ABOUT 1972?

Here are a few items I would predict:

February, the cold month, and the month in which our Valentine day will have 29 days (happily the extra one does not fall on Friday), in all probability we will have a Federal election and despite the rift in the Tory party I think Mr. Stanfield has a fighting chance to be our next Prime Minister.

Joe Smallwood is fading out of the picture, and he will likely be among the "has beens" by the end of the year. The big question will John Diefenbaker retire (I believe he will).

Honourable William Davis will continue in a "larger area" programme for municipalities despite the opposition from the "back Commons".

And of course, baby Trudeau will be one year old on Christmas Day 1972.

Nuff said; remember, this is only my opinion and you have a right to yours as well. I will respect them.

Many thanks for the many kindnesses shown us here at our old Carnarvon home, and Violet joins me in wishing all our readers a Happy and Prosperous New Year.

Peace be with you!

IN MEMORIAM

FADER — In loving memory of a dear husband, Orma, who passed away on January 9, 1971.

As time unfolds another year Memories keep you ever near, Silent thoughts of times together Hold memories that will last forever.

—Sadly missed by wife Ethel.

IN MEMORIAM

FADER — In loving memory of a dear father and grandfather, Orma, who passed away on January 9, 1971.

Gone is the face we loved so dear, Silent is the voice we loved to hear.

Too far away for sight or speech But not too far for thought to reach;

Sweet to remember him, once here.

Who, though absent, is just as dear.

—Always remembered by Evelyn, Harold and Family.

FADER — In loving memory of a dear father and grandfather, Orma Wesley Fader, who passed away on January 9, 1971.

He is gone but not forgotten And, as dawns another year, In our lonely hours of thinking

Thoughts of him are always near; Days of sadness will come o'er us, Many think the wound is healed,

But they little know the sorrow That lies in the heart concealed.

—Always remembered and sadly missed by daughter Elva, son-in-law John and Grandchildren.

SEDGWICK — In loving memory of Clarence Sedgwick, who passed away on January 4, 1971.

Gone from us, but leaving memories,

Death can never take away

Memories that will always linger While upon this earth we stay.

—Ever remembered by wife Lenora and Family.

Uncle Dudley's Column

TRIBUTE IN MEMORY OF
M. BROWN, POSTMASTER, ETC.

As a lad being with my parents on the farm, Lot 1, Concession 4, Township of Anson, I have many happy memories of men whose influence helped to give guidance in the formative years — of these I believe Michael Brown holds the top place.

As I mentioned before, I was the eldest son of T. H. Rogers and Nellie Unger, and to all the near neighbours and many of the village folk I was "Tommy Rogers' boy"; and as father was Clerk of Anson and Hindon Township we had more than the usual amount of mail coming through.

We were about two-and-a-half miles from the post office, but our near neighbour Uncle Tom Bradley or some of us managed that we got the mail nearly every day (at least three times a week).

I remember well one day, when receiving the mail, Mr. Brown mentioned "there is a registered letter for your father, Clayton." My reply, "Will I be able to take it, sir?" "Oh yes," he replied, "you will need to sign for it." As he placed the record book before me, I hesitated a minute and asked: "Do I sign my name or my Dad's, Mr. Brown?" Quite quickly, and with emphasis, he replied: "Clayton, always sign your own name, and you will keep out of a good deal of trouble."

Mr. Brown was also County Treasurer and Treasurer for Anson, Hindon and Minden Townships, and also kept the records and all business pertaining to the cheese factory — he was a fount of knowledge to all who cared to inquire. I have in mind the remarks of a Methodist minister, then in the village, "If I am faced with a difficult problem as to dates or other matters, I can always appeal to Mr. Brown; he will have or find the answer."

He had a finer library than anyone else in town, unless it was William Fielding, one-time magistrate.

It was his boast that the County had no debentures outstanding. The residents of the County had pledged themselves (that is all within certain distance of the railway) to a large amount to finance this venture, and many found it difficult to keep up their taxes.

During the years that I was interested and active in municipal affairs of the township, I had a good deal to do with this man. On one occasion I received a call that finances were low, as he put it, "Clayton, our balance is under $1,000.00 — when we get this low I cannot sleep nights, no matter how much Scotch I drink." Needless to say, we quickly remedied the situation, along with other men of his day.

He served well the community in which we lived.

Peace be with you!

Initiatives Program Projects Approved

As of Friday, December 10, the Department of Manpower and Immigration had approved 40 projects in Ontario under the Local Initiatives Program at a cost of $1,000,000 to the Federal Government, advised Dick Kenzie, Manager of the Peterborough Canada Manpower Centre. These projects will create 500 new jobs. Three of these projects are in the Peterborough area. He added that there are also 240 other projects which are pending, and many more submissions are expected.

All municipalities and organizations or groups are urged to submit their proposals as soon as possible.

Any assistance or information regarding this program may be obtained through the local Canada Manpower Centre.

Classic Film Appreciation Course Underway

Have you ever seen a film you really enjoyed and thought about how it was conceived, what did they show such and such a scene for and why didn't they show something else?

During January, February and March, residents of the Haliburton Highlands will have an opportunity to see full-length motion pictures and discuss their significance in terms of technical brilliance, great acting, social significance or just plain nostalgia.

These films will be shown at the Haliburton Highlands Secondary School, and discussion carried on in the Gallery of the Guild of Fine Arts. The instructor will be Mr. Gordon Gray of Sir Sandford Fleming College, who is currently conducting a similar course in Peterborough.

The Haliburton Highland Guild of Fine Arts is joining with Sir Sandford Fleming, Continuing Education Division, to give the people of the Haliburton Highlands an opportunity to join in this course of classic film appreciation.

For further information regarding this course, call the Haliburton Highlands Guild of Fine Arts at 457-1680.

"He needs love"

The shy, beguiling smile belongs to Nevil, 18 months old. As you see, he is a very handsome little fellow with big blue eyes, blonde hair, and rosy cheeks. His background is Anglo-Saxon.

Nevil is in good health except that his fair skin is very dry. The condition is not apparent on his face, but his little body looks flaky. Though the dryness does not bother him at all, it means he cannot be washed with whatever soap is in family use. His skin must be cared for with special oils.

This quiet youngster regards strange adults with suspicion. When he feels comfortable with people, he likes to snuggle up and be read to. He is happiest when playing with a little boy about the same age in his foster home.

Nevil is reaching his milestones at an average rate or sometimes ahead. He walked at 10 months, for instance. He doesn't talk much, but obviously understands everything said to him.

This appealing baby will be a rewarding son for a family who will give him lots of love and time to feel that he really belongs. To inquire about adopting Nevil, please write to Today's Child, Box 888, Station K., Toronto. For general adoption information, ask your Children's Aid Society.

Pottery Group Prepares For Session

The fall session of the Haliburton Highlands Guild of Fine Arts Co-operative Pottery Group ended on December 23, and now the group is preparing for its spring session which will begin on Tuesday, January 11.

Once again, classes will be held on Tuesday and Wednesday afternoons and evenings at 1:30 and 7:30, and fees will be $12.00 for eleven weeks. This fee will include a $3.00 membership in the Guild for 1972.

In order to help both the beginning potter and those with some experience a programme of instruction similar to that followed in the fall session is being planned.

During November students benefitted from a weekend workshop conducted by Ron Roy, a bus trip to Toronto to visit the Guild of Crafts Exhibition at the Ontario Science Centre, and two days of instruction and demonstration by Miss Chiziko Shimano. Fresh inspiration was provided by films shown during classes in December.

The spring session will offer a similar programme with a continuing emphasis on the co-operative nature of the course and on enabling students to follow their work through the complete firing process.

Those interested in joining the classes should come to the Agricultural Building at the Haliburton Highlands Secondary School on January 11 or 12 at 1:30 or 7:30.

NOTICE OF APPLICATION to the Ontario Municipal Board by the Corporation of the Township of Glamorgan for approval of a By-Law to regulate land use passed pursuant to Section 30 of The Planning Act, R.S.O. 1960.

TAKE NOTICE that the Council of the Corporation of the Township of Glamorgan intends to apply to the Ontario Municipal Board pursuant to the provisions of Section 30 of The Planning Act, R.S.O. 1960 for approval of By-Law 71-10 passed on the 13th day of May, 1971. A copy of the By-Law is furnished herewith. A note giving an explanation of the purpose and effect of the by-law and stating the lands affected thereby is also furnished herewith.

BY-LAW 71-10

A BY-LAW TO AMEND BY-LAW NO. 1006

WHEREAS Sec. 30 of The Planning Act, R.S.O. 1960, gives authority for a local municipality, with the approval of the Ontario Municipal Board, to pass by-laws and amendments thereto, regulating the use of land;

AND WHEREAS By-law No. 1006 has been passed under Sec. 30 of The Planning Act, R.S.O. 1960, with the approval of the Ontario Municipal Board;

AND WHEREAS the Council of the Corporation of the Township of Glamorgan deems it advisable to amend By-law No. 1006;

NOW THEREFORE the Council of the Corporation of the Township of Glamorgan enacts as follows:

1. That Section 2, paragraph 7 of By-law No. 1006 be amended to read:

WATERFRONT LOT:

- (a) for all dwellings 15,000 square feet
- (b) for tourist establishments, motels and similar uses, one acre
- (c) for summer camps or similar uses, two acres.

3. That the following shall be added to Section 3, paragraph 1 of By-law No. 1006:

(d) The minimum lot area shall not apply to any lot on which there were pre-existing buildings at the time of the passing of this By-law, if such buildings are subsequently destroyed by fire, storm or any other natural causes, PROVIDED that such buildings are replaced by buildings which are no larger than the buildings which have been so destroyed.

4. That Section 3, paragraph 6 of By-law No. 1006 be amended to read:

LOTS ABUTTING A WATER COURSE:

Where a lot abuts a water course, lake, pond, river, stream, etc., no building or structure shall be erected or placed closer than 66 feet to the present high water mark, except a dock.

Where the contour or rock formation of the land is such that it would not be feasible to comply with this restriction, a permit shall be obtained from the Clerk of the Township only after approval by the Inspector or Council specifying the minimum distance from the high water mark.

5. That this By-law shall be submitted to The Ontario Municipal Board for approval.

6. That By-laws 69-14 and 70-10, which have not yet come into effect, be and hereby are invalidated and repealed.

7. That this By-law shall come into effect on the day on which it receives the approval of The Ontario Municipal Board.
